Intended Learning Outcomes:
To demonstrate in general:
• empathy with an historical figure and with life in another period of time.
• collaboration in portrayal of a role that is as historically accurate as possible and imaginatively creative when historical detail is found wanting.
• ability to contribute to negotiations with stakeholders who hold conflicting viewpoints.
• understanding that “history” is an artefact constructed from incomplete evidence by historians operating from their own viewpoint and context.

To demonstrate in particular an understanding of the people, circumstances and issues that define the first British colony in Australia.